"... the sensation of things as they are perceived and not as they are known." –

Victor Shklovsky

The secret that got lost.

The dancefloor and the stage: where the world happens, but not that only -- where, for a night, for a moment, for the 8 bars of the perfect break, for the duration of a breath, worlds are made, fragment, reform, are lost.

Transmutations. The body in its great desire.
